TROUBLES OF THE STOCK BROKERS

Rumors of Impending Note Issues Bear Heavily Upon the Speculative Mind.

MUCH MONEY NECESSARY

INDUSTRIAL CORPORATIONS SEEK CAPITAL.

New York, May 18 .- The attention of operators in stocks today was turned apparently from the wheat market and was diverted to the troubles more nearly concerning its effect. The trouble of mind was due mostly to rumors and to the inference drawn from reports rather than actual developments. Prospects of additional note issues seemed to bear heavily on the speculative mind and unconformed rumors were afloat of some incursion into the field by industrial corporations of the first class, where railroads hitherto have been the largest seekers of accommodations. Inference was drawn from the report that New York Central interests were about to withdraw from the directorate of the Chaseneeks & Ohio, which were hurtthe Chesapeake & Ohio, which were hurt-ful to their stock, and by sympathy to the general market. Some friction between New York Central and Pennsylvania in-terests was implied in the rumors current on those transactions.

Another center of depression was the stocks of the New York public utilities, for which there was no clear explanation for which there was no clear explanation beyond the old subject of the pending public utilities bill at Albany. The fall in prices of stocks was in progress while wheat was reacting sharply in response to profit taking on the wide advances. The bank statement, while favorable, prosented no unexpected features, the cash increase confirming closely to the preliminary estimates and the small loan contraction helping the strength of the posi-tion of the banks. The easy tone of the bond market was an element in the general depression prevailing. Foreign holt-days subtracted one source of the usual participation in the market. Total sales of bonds, par value, $604,000.

The stock market in New York has been in an almost torpid state this week, in common with the securities market at all the great-money centers. Elements of uncertainty in the financial and industrial outlook serve to keep down speculative action and the demand is not sufficient to make any impression on prices. The professional trading element have the market practically to themselves and they follow an opportunist policy, seizing on any special development to take a posi-tion in the hope that it may be the her-ald of some outside activity in stocks.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, May 18.—The cereal markets were chiefly influenced today by the inevitable week ending realizing. Wheat dropped in net figures to 964/096%c. July corn declined %c and oats %c. Provisions dropped 71/20121/2c.

There were other influences in wheat but they availed naught against the desire to secure profits without testing the possibilities of an idle Sunday. Cables were lower on the Budapest report of rain in Russia as well as in the Austro-Hungarian grain belt, but the desire for profits among the cautious offset these features. garian grain belt, but the desire for profits among the cautious offset these factors. Buying orders were by no means absent, for the demand was again large and of general proportions, but it was not sufficient to hold prices at the high level at which the market closed yesterday.

July sold between 99½c and 96½c and closed ¾@%cc lower at 96¼@96%c. Other options closed at proportionate losses.

SPECIAL

This offer of 50,000 Shares Treasury Stock The Oro Nevada Mining Co.

At Private Sale Is subject to withdrawal without notice. For price and terms send for Special Confidential Offer, or call at my office, Wells-Fargo Bldg., 125 So. Main

A Statement of Facts

In reply to inquiries as to my offer at Private Sale of 50,000 shares of the treasury stock of THE ORO NEVADA MINING COMPANY of Crescent, Lincoln county, Nevada, I wish to state that at the price I am quoting and under the conditions that govern this sale, I can safely assure each and every investor that the guarantees of Andrew P. Mayberry, president of this company and his associates, will be met in full and without delay.

In adopting this method of sale, it has been my thought that there are many many persons who, knowing the officers of this company personally, will appreciate the opportunity thus provided, and I may say to those who do not know my methods, that I am not engaged in the sale of mining shares in general, but offer only those shares that I take over with properties that I intend to develop by securing the bulk of the financial needs through my eastern connection.

Under these circumstances and conditions, this offering is of special value to each and every person desiring a safe investment, at a low price with the certainty of an opportunity for profits within a reasonable time.

I Invite Closest Investigation From Anyone Desiring a Safe Investment.

HENRY E. BROWNE, Fiscal Agent Wells-Fargo Building, 125 So. Main St. Bell Phone 145; Ind., 2746 A.
